Re: Election Systems & Software EVS Version 6.0.2.0—Examination January 22, 2019

Dear Mr. Ingram:

Pursuant to Texas Election Code § 122.036 and 1 Texas Administrative Code § 81.60, by this letter I am transmitting my examiner's report for the Secretary of State's January 22, 2019 voting system examination. The subject of that examination was Election Systems & Software ("ES&S") voting system EVS 6.0.2.0.

The factual background for this report includes ES&S's presentation to the examiners during an examination at the Secretary of State's office, statements made by ES&S's representatives during that examination, and e-mail answers to the examiner's follow-up questions sent by ES&S to the Secretary of State's office and then forwarded to the examiners.

The Office of the Attorney General notes that the United States Election Assistance Commission certified EVS 6.0.2.0 on October 4, 2018 as a modification to EVS 6.0.0.0, which has been previously certified for use in Texas elections. EVS 6.0.2.0 consists of multiple components, including hardware and software components.

Both during and after the examination, the examiners raised specific concerns about legal compliance of EVS 6.0.2.0. The Office of the Attorney General notes certain instances in which use of the system may not comply with current legal requirements, including maintaining the secrecy of the ballot and the numbering of ballots; however, such concerns could be mitigated with proper procedures in place. Notwithstanding, after a thorough review of the system as well as the relevant laws and applicable rules, the Office of the Attorney General concludes there are no legal compliance issues with EVS 6.0.2.0. Thus, we recommend certification of EVS 6.0.2.0 consistent with this report.

Sincerely,

Ryan Vassar
Chief for General Counsel
